

BT should be split up to enable it to service all the community. At present the appearance is that the installation of fast broadband is done to maximise the take-up of BT Television services. Businesses in particular are neglected.